

Vets News - February 2023

Illawarra Week of Golf

Kiama hosted the first round of this tournament on February 20. The event was a medley fourball with 72 starters, all of which were visitors to the club.

The visiting players were high in their praise of the course and meals that were available after their round. A complimentary morning tea was provided and special thanks go to Trish Laird, Judy Willott and Pam Hodgkinson for their input.

Bob Smith and Richard Farrant ensured a smooth start to the day as well as collating scorecards at the completion of play.

Kiama/Mollymook Challenge

The visit to Mollymook is scheduled for play on April 24. Check out the Vets Noticeboard in the downstairs foyer to record your expression of interest. The format for play is a 2 Person Ambrose. Kiama will host the return game on November 20. (Note the date for the November game was incorrectly reported in the January newsletter)

Trevor Bell Memorial Shield

This is an annual inter club Stableford team event for IVGA and NSWVGA affiliated golfers. Seven clubs are involved, ranging from Russell Vale in the North to Kiama in the South.

Club teams of 8 players contest each round, held monthly at a different course with the best 6 scores counting for each club. Both male and female players are eligible to play. The first game for 2023 will be held at Kiama on April 3. The last round is scheduled for October 30 at The Grange. Kiama currently hold the shield after a very disruptive 2022.

Gus O'Brien is the manager of the Kiama team. If you would like to play in this event, contact Gus on 0432414643 or gusobrien1950@hotmail.com. A sheet containing more information about this event is on display on the Vets Noticeboard in the downstairs foyer.

NSWVGA Matchplay Championships

This tournament is to be held at Shoalhaven Heads Golf Club from May 29 to June 2.

There is a flyer on the Vets Noticeboard in the downstairs foyer if you are interested in participating. Alternatively, go to nswvga.com.au and click on program 2023 and scroll down to the relevant date.

Vets Page

A revamp of the Vets Golf page on the KGC website is in the planning stage. Updates will be provided as this initiative progresses.

What Do You Think?

Life is just a bunch of obstacles trying to stop you from playing golf.
